

Atlas Copco CMT USA LLC
Introduces
Stockdale Mine Supply LLC, a division of Keystone Air and Drill Supply Company as the Southern Appalachian Distributor

Atlas Copco, the world's largest manufacturer of hydraulic top head drive rotary drills welcomes Stockdale Mine Supply, LLC, with offices in Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania and Norwich, Ohio, as their distributor for oil & gas drilling equipment in the Southern Appalachian basin. Stockdale Mine Supply will join their sister company, Keystone Drill Services, LLC, also a division of Keystone Air and Drill Supply Company operating from their facilities in Norton, Virginia.

Stockdale Mine Supply is a multiple recipient of the Ingersoll-Rand Top Five Distributor Award has been a distributor of Ingersoll-Rand and now Atlas Copco drilling equipment since 1981. Stockdale has been providing the drilling industry with rotary drilling expertise, complete machines and parts sales in addition to product support and service for more than 60 years. Keystone Drill Services is based in Somerset, Pennsylvania with facilities in Wysox, Pennsylvania as well as Norton, Virginia. Keystone specializes in both Atlas Copco's Secoroc DTH hammers and drill bits, as well as in custom built auxiliary and booster air compressor packages to compliment the drill packages.

Stockdale Mine Supply currently distributes Atlas Copco oil and gas drilling equipment in Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and West Virginia. By joining forces with Keystone Drill Services, Stockdale will now provide world class sales, service and support for customers in Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Alabama in addition to their current territory. Stockdale welcomes this opportunity to serve existing Atlas Copco customers and looks forward to developing new industry relationships.
